Britain Suspends The Gold Standard

National Govt. and Labor Unite To Meet Crisis.

It was announced early Monday morning that the British government had decided to suspend the gold standard.

The news came as a great shock to Britishers all over the world, most of whom were filled with apprehension as to what the ultimate outcome would be. But as more information and details filtered through and opinions of British statesmen, press, and financiers, coupled with opinions of leaders on this side, were learned, the tension was removed, and now the general impression appears to be that it was the only thing to do, the best thing that could have been done, and that it will ultimately solve many of the problems with which Britain has been having to battle for several months past.

The decision came with dramatic suddenness and the rapid manner in which the necessary legislation was passed through the Commons and the House of Lords is a record as it was all done in a single day.

In introducing his enabling bill to the house, Mr. Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said there was no need for a panic. "There is no sober truth," he said, "a world-wide panic on the part of the investing classes. The whole world seems bent on selling securities for cash, denying the possibility of the existence of credit." Such a course could not be pursued very long without causing a break-down of the whole world system of credit. In the face of such a panic as that we must protect ourselves.

At another point Mr. Snowden said: "The pound will not go the way of the mark or franc. Though its value may fall in terms of foreign currency we can feel assured that the extent of the fall will be limited. The British budget in now the most securely balanced in the world."

The Chancellor explained how great credit established in New York and Paris to protect sterling was almost gone. The French and United States governments had been asked for further credits. The replies of each had been friendly but offered no prospect of further assistance on a scale that was necessary. The drain of gold and credit continued. Then, "with appalling suddenness" came the crisis. The Bank of England, in a letter jointly to Prime Minister MacDonald and Mr. Snowden, said the only course left was suspension of the gold standard. Mr. Snowden admitted it was an "extreme step" but the government had no alternative.

An encouraging feature of the debate in the house was the support given the measure by Mr. Henderson, leader of the Labor party, who, speaking for his supporters said: "That is our contribution to a united front."

A committee is investigating the feasibility of extending the Lethbridge South-eastern irrigation district. The area, mainly affected would be along the C. P. R. and would comprise about 50,000 acres of which, 638 sections could be irrigated.

Implementing legislation passed at last session of Parliament, Canada will shortly take over the Royal Mint at Ottawa. For several weeks, officials of the finance department have been in touch with Canadian mines, arranging for a supply of gold bullion to be used in the operation of the mint. While action was not taken with a view to meeting an emergency situation, it is stated that the department that its effect will probably be to strengthen the gold position here.

No embargo on gold shipment from Canada exists, and no indication has been given of the placing of such an embargo. Departmental officials stated Tuesday that they had no knowledge of conferences on the value of the Canadian dollar in New York.

Prize-Winning Apprentices

Considerable interest has been aroused by the performance of four young apprentices at the Canadian Pacific Railway's Angus Shop, Montreal, who captured three first prizes and one second, between them, at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, 1931, in the exhibit of mechanical drawings and designs. The quartet are pupils of Charles Bulley, instructor of apprentices and John Burns, work manager.

M. J. Nelson, 19, machinist apprentice since 1926, captured first prize in the Electrical Section, as a first attempt.

Constant Vigilance Of British Authorities Is Necessary To Suppress Slave Trade In Africa

Those comfortable people who are wont to accept as gospel the glowing generalities of opportunist politicians and who, therefore, believe that all is well with the world apart from depression and failure to agree upon disarmament and war debts, may get something of a jolt if they peruse the reports of the recent annual meeting of the Anti-Slavery Society. They have been accustomed to believe that slavery was abolished in all countries with the exception of Liberia. But, no less an authority than Mr. J. A. Sponder tells us that the menace of slavery is ever-present and that nothing but the constant vigilance and the restraining influence of British rule in the Sudan prevent its revival.

Only a year and a half ago there was a round-up throughout the Sudan by the British, which resulted in the rescue of a number of slaves, the capture of some notorious slave-traders and a further grip by the authorities upon the narrowing channels through which these had been operating. But, as Mr. Sponder points out, such round-ups are very expensive, and the Sudan treasury is in no state to stand any strain just now. That in a country as vast as the Sudan slavery should have been virtually wiped out in thirty years is a magnificent tribute to the humane and civilizing influences of British rule; but there still remains all over the country a sort of subconscious acceptance of slavery that may not be wholly eliminated for generations. Primitive people are always drifting across the Sudan, and they all have this conception of slavery in their traditions and in their blood.

Even today comparatively small numbers of slaves are being sold in the Sudan or in the Araba regard slavery as a crime or an offence, but rather as something the British will not condone and which must, therefore, be concealed or abandoned in toto. Virtually up to the end of 1900 the Sudan had been raided and devastated year after year for long generations by slave-dealers. The British changed that, but if their hands were to be lifted from the Sudan tomorrow, slavery would be in full swing again by the end of the year. It is this knowledge that prevents the British authorities in the Sudan to stand as strongly to their present policy and to decry interference by ad-hoc politicians whose knowledge of the facts is gleaned from fables or from a Cook's tour.

Want Lighter Bales.

Popular Demand Is For Baled Hay That Is Easily Handled by the Seed-Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have received complaints from hay dealers that the present practice of baling Canadian farmers of putting up hay in bales weighing of 150 pounds or more is tiring the market for baled hay. Popular demand today is for a lighter bale that can be easily handled by the buyer, who is usually a farmer or a truckman, who has to carry the bale on his shoulder to his feed lot. Bales weighing from 120 to 125 pounds will find a much more ready market than heavier bales.

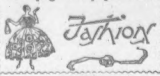

Say It With Advertising
Speaking at a gathering in Montreal L. J. McKenna, member of a well-known hotel firm said that advertising was the lever by which many businesses had been raised to success. "He is absolutely right in that statement as to 'say it with advertising' is as potent as to 'say it with flowers'."

Motor Car In Canada For Each Eight Of Population

The Canadian automobile industry in 1930 was capitalized at more than $90,000,000, and 158,374 passenger and commercial vehicles were manufactured. Cars and carriages were withdrawn from use during the year numbered 95,341. There are 1,229,888 motor vehicles registered in the Dominion, of which 1,074,484 are passenger vehicles. In 1929 the registration was 1,193,889, and in 1922 it was 1,070,819 for all classes of vehicles. On the average each eight Canadians own a motor car, a ratio exceeded only by the United States and the Hawaiian Islands.

No Change In Centuries

An American millionaire now in London, England, who spends thousands of pounds a year on old MSS. and first editions, has a wonderful MS. written in Spanish in 1645 by a notorious old woman-batter.

It might have been written in 1931. The translation reads:

"Modern women—what are they? Just a walking mass of cosmetics, with their plucked eyebrows, crimson lips and stained nails. Modern women think they are so charming. I think they are hateful, and so artificial."

The thickest clouds are over ten miles thick.

Honor Indian Hero

Meshkosh, Ojibway Brave and Indian guide attached to the French River Bungalow Camp, is as modest as he is courageous. It is three years since, with heavy odds against him, he rescued Miss Effride Osmann and Dr. J. Schwartz, of Chicago, from the eddies of the Blue Rapids on the French River into which they had been flung from an overturned canoe. He told a word of his exploit which came at last to the notice of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Enquiries were set on foot, the facts came to light and the upshot was the presentation to Meshkosh this month at a gathering of 120 guests of the camp headed by Manager Jack Stratheden, at which the Chiefs of the tribe in full regalia of feather headdresses and richly embroidered coats participated. Meshkosh (left, bareheaded), is shown in the photograph with the medal which is being awarded by an Ojibway Chief.

Ten Year Plan For China

Would Convert China Into One Of The Great Industrial Powers Of The World

A "ten-year" plan for China, intended to accomplish much of what the Five-Year Plan is accomplishing for Russia, has been worked out by the Ministry of Industry.

The plan is intended to convert China into one of the great industrial powers of the world. The program has been submitted to the government. It embraces 14 points.

The scheme is of unprecedented magnitude and importance. If accepted in the form proposed, and if successfully carried out, the economic position of China will undergo a tremendous change.

The plan is presented by the Ministry of Industries is worked out in great detail.

That the scheme is ambitious to admit: that it will encounter many difficulties is fully realized, but that the government can carry this plan through is confidently believed if it can win and hold the people's confidence.

Ontario Grapes

Growers Market Council To Launch Selling Campaign

Designed to promote sales of Ontario's grape crop, unusually large this year, a comprehensive selling and advertising campaign will be launched, according to Charles W. Bauer, secretary of the Ontario growers market council. "Every basket of grapes shipped outside the province will be subject to government inspection to ensure grade and quality," said Mr. Bauer. Ontario grapes would be available all over Canada, he said.

Greece Is Now Canada's Second Best Wheat Customer, With Importations Steadily Increasing

Reindeer Farm At Churchill

Reed Of 1,000 Reindeer To Be Shipped North Next Spring

Negotiations are under way between a northern syndicate and the Alaska reindeer company for a herd of 1,000 reindeer to be delivered at Churchill next spring. The reindeer will be brought by boat to Vancouver and will be shipped across the continent to their new home about two miles north of the new bay port of Churchill. The chief business of the syndicate is expected to come from Europe. Reindeers can be shipped alive by the coal bay route to Churchill much cheaper than cattle, and there is a premium on the continent.

Cheap food is provided on the barren lands, the only cost will be the cost of the reindeer herders. The rate of increase of these animals makes them among the most profitable stock to raise. The reindeer native to the area around Churchill are inferior to the shipment that will be imported both in hides and skins, and in attempts to be made to get federal aid for the project.

Good Musical Training

Broadens the Mind

Don't let the radio drive away all attempt to teach the boys and girls something of the science of music.

One evening about the piano with one musical girl playing real music and one young man singing the songs of the composers is worth a year of radio study in education and refinement. If our schools could combine themselves to reading, learning the fundamentals of arithmetic, spelling and music, our children would be brighter, our churches full of song, our society more substantial and more true. Good training to music means a broadening of the mind. It gives to the fortunate scholar a wider range of usefulness. Even the orator teaches his children how to sing.

Making More Butter

Butter Exports Continue To Show a Decided Increase

As the current year progresses the market report of the Dominion Dairy and Cold Storage Branch makes it increasingly apparent that butter fat is being sent to market in the form of butter to a greater extent this year than for some time past. Receipts at Montreal for butter, up to the end of this year, were 50,257 packages as compared with 242,963 packages the preceding year. These receipts totalled 286,375 boxes for the same period as compared with 425,044 boxes for the preceding year. Butter exports continue to show a decided increase. In total, to August 1, 1931, 76,658 as compared with 25,044 last year for the same period.

For Tourist Traffic

Link Up Highway To Connect West With National Parks

An effort to secure tourist traffic on trips around national parks in western Canada, via Riding Mountain Park in Manitoba to Prince Albert National Park in Saskatchewan; then to Jasper National Park in Alberta, down to Banff, Watrous Lakes, Yellowstone and Glacier, will be made by the Federal Government, according to Hon. Thomas Murphy, who said that was necessary before launching such an appeal was to complete a few links in all-weather highways.

"You folks beated up the greatest temperance movement in this country for years," he said. Greece today is Canada's second best wheat customer with importations to that country continually on the increase, according to Henry Turcott, Canadian Government Trade Commissioner to Greece and Turkey. Canada's best wheat customer is Great Britain.

In 1926 Mr. Turcott was an instructor of languages at the provincial normal school in Saskatoon, and was assistant trade commissioner in Paris and Milan before going to Athens. He is at present touring the Dominion to gain first hand information on business conditions, and will return to Greece in November.

In an interview Mr. Turcott gave an outline of the conditions that exist in Greece and the opportunity for trade with Canada which is present. The trade commissioner office at Athens has been open only for two years.

The general crisis has unquestionably reacted unfavourably on Greece, and has been followed by a depression in commercial and other pursuits, said Mr. Turcott. "But the depression can be traced to a shortage of crops and to low prices obtainable for the staples of Greek export trade. However, it is not certain that an actual crisis took place in Greece during 1930, nor that one is taking place this year."

Taking into account the fall in prices, it is evident that the figures relating to the volume of Canadian exports to Greece showed a decided progress.

"This progress is attributable to what having been shipped to the Greek market in a quantity never attained previously. Shipments of Canadian wheat to Greece represented in 1930, a volume of 9,000,000 bushels, or over one-half of Greece's requirements of foreign wheat, against 7,000,000 bushels in 1929. Larger sales are reported this year."

"The other Canadian products sold in the Greek market consisted of mackerel, tinneled lobster, tinned sardines, dried and smoked fish, flour, condensed milk, whisky, agricultural implements, machinery, storage batteries, wood-pulp for artificial silk, wallpaper and jute bags."

To complete the picture of Canadian trade with Greece, I shall add that in 1930, our imports amounted to $14,000 against $25,000 in 1929, the balance of trade being therefore, highly favourable in Canada.

To Hurry Relief Measures

Credit Of Province Of Saskatchewan Behind Relief Program

To enable the various projects to be started as soon as possible, the credit of the province of Saskatchewan will be placed behind the whole relief program. Hon. Howard McCool stated recently.

"This will prevent any undue delay in the completion of the relief projects and provision will be made later for having whatever amounts are expended under the Federal Government, he said."

The residents of the province in need of aid enabled to be immediately, pending further negotiations with Ottawa concerning the distribution of relief costs.

Rights Or Duties

Perhaps one of the most potent causes of the present distress is the tendency to lay stress on rights rather than duties. Yet the real problem of humanity probably depends far more on the conception of duty than on the conception of rights.

A case of a man who gave some of his blood to save his child, and at the same time unknowingly transmitted malaria to the child, has been reported.

One-tenth of the harvested hay crop in the United States is lost each year from spontaneous combustion.

The whist drive and dance put on last Friday evening by the four town football teams, attracted a big crowd to Cliff Hall. Keen interest was taken in the drive and when the tables were cleared away the hall was taxed to its capacity to accommodate the dancers. The event was one of the most successful of the season.

In the 438 Alberta Pool Elevators grain growers have the most effective fighting unit in the province
